DEDICATION

The 1975 Granby Comet is dedicated with sincere gratitude and warmth to Miss Blake, our Assistant Principal in charge of Instruction.

To the thousands of students and hundreds of teachers that have walked the halls of Granby High since 1939, the mere thought of Granby High without Miss Blake is hard to imagine. She is as much a part of the Granby tradition and heritage as the cupola or the "comet".

A native of Norfolk, Miss Blake was educated in its public schools. After graduation from Maury High, she went to Sweet Briar College in Sweet Briar, Virginia. Her first teaching assignment was at Blair Junior High where she taught ninth grade social studies. In 1939, Miss Blake went to Columbia University, School of Philosophy, to begin work on a Master's degree. Nineteen hundred and thirty-nine was Granby's first year, and at mid-term Miss Blake was sent here to teach English, U.S. History and Physical Geography. Besides her teaching duties, Miss Blake served as head counselor when the first guidance program was initiated at Granby in 1943.

Miss Blake became Assistant Principal in charge of Instruction in the early 1960's. She spends much time in classrooms observing techniques, and evaluating the work of lessons. Miss Blake had a Meilon Fellowship at the University of Virginia the summer of 1964. She is a past president of the Norfolk Principals Organization, of the Hampton Roads Personnel and Guidance Association and recently of the Norfolk Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an organization to recognize outstanding women educators.

Miss Blake has formulated many important ideas on the subjects of education and teaching in her distinguished teaching career. She still regards the classroom teacher as the most important person in the system in establishing the strength of a school, its worth to the individual and the school's public image, good or bad. She regards teaching as the foremost business of the schools and she is direct and incisive in her appraisal of a lesson. The pupil, according to Miss Blake, is the most important person who ever enters a school, but a master teacher is an invaluable influence upon youth. She feels that good teaching takes careful preparation, because structure and order are essential to a disciplined mind. To Miss Blake, education is the escalator for a greater tomorrow, constantly challenging, and always affording exciting changes for the service and betterment of mankind.

For her many years of faithful loyalty, warm friendship and professional instruction, the 1975 Granby Comet staff is pleased to dedicate its 35th edition to Miss Ellen Blake, Granby High's friend.

THEME

Comet Staff - 1975

"WE, THE STAFF, present to you the first Granby Annual with the hope that you will receive as much pleasure from it as we have received in preparing it for you. Our book was compiled not only as a record of our Class of 1941 but as a history of the school from its beginning in September 1939. Our book should mean more to us through each passing year, as we turn through its pages and think back on the fine times our class had in working and playing together.

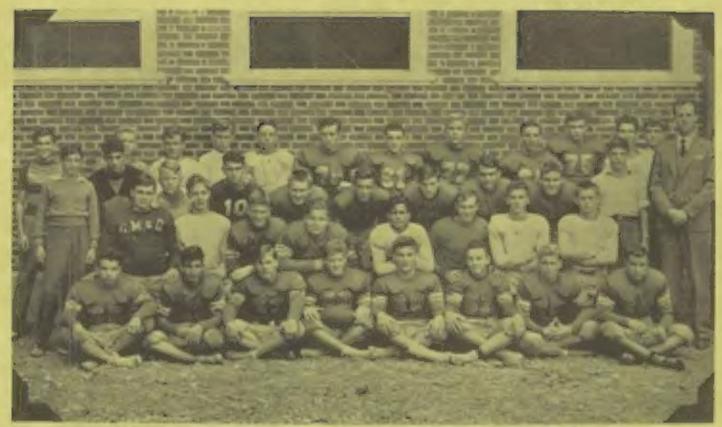

It is our sincerest hope that in the future, with the aid of this volume, you may live again the old friendships, activities, and fun that made up the unforgettable days in Granby."

This objective of the first Comet staff is still valid today, thirty-five years later. In our theme section, we have tried to give you glimpses of the way it was, blended with the way it is today.

The Granby Comets did not have a winning season victory-wise, but they did win respect and pride for themselves and for their fellow teammates. Winning one and tying one out of the ten game season, they showed a strong sense of drive and determination which kept them going. Despite disappointments, the team worked well together, and hopefully next season will be a little brighter

A funtor Comet goes all the way!

The JV football team could not get it together this year, as far as winning goes, but like their big brothers, the Varsity football team, pride and unity were stressed.

The JV team had several fine standouts, such as quarterback Paul Harrison, and runningback Daryl Grant. Many of this year's JV players have developed to the point where they will be able to play for the Varsity squad next season

CROSS COUNTRY

The Cross Country team did not run away with any first place honors this year, due to the fact that this was a relatively young team. Inexperience was the major obstacle this year, although there were several standouts on the squad; notably returnees Bill Hirstein, Stanley Glaser, and Harrison Ransom, and rookie David Rickerson. The men (and lady) gained valuable experience under Coach Glassburner, and prospects for next season look brighter

The Granby Comets started the 1974-1975 basket-ball season as the defending Eastern District regular-season champions. As Coach Phelps put it, "The players are a close-knit family who show a lot of enthusiasm and determination to play good basketball." With the return of such outstanding players as Dexter Reid, (whom Coach Phelps feels is one of the top 15 players in the state), Scooter Henigan and Leon White, among others, the team was destined for a winning season. Experience is a big factor in playing and winning ball games, and with outstanding reserve players like Kelvin Fowler and Johnsthan Miller on the bench, the Comets were ready to take on all opponents

Are you sure this water is warm?

Due to a lack of swimmers, and especially divers, the Granby Swim team has not had an extraordinary season. Winning only 2 out of 8 meets, the predominately female squad still boasts of the fact that they can beat almost all of the other female swimmers in the city. Team Captain Beth Blanchard stood out as the star of the squad, and although losing her for next season, the team will still have good swimmers for 75.76 namely Ann Dreesen, Chip Gurney, and the Klein twins

DEAR CATHY From the halls of Granby Elementry to the halls of Stuart to the halls of compostella & back to Granby once again. Friends we've been all along & seldom enemies. Way long ago in 1st grade we fought to read the most books of then Who got more Eisthen Sts & toour ever lorobe Mrs. Myers who never would give me an "A" I + looks as if you've wan so for maybe someday I'll get all hoped up about my Biology & Spanish tests & be as smart as you; but for the present, I'm just a regular old 10th grade guy, Although we did have a great year with our slap happy flying ace of or Biology teacher & our sternedfaced - - mrs. Austin, sourpus of the year. We both made the scholostic toom so neither of us can cut each other down about that.

I know well never forget the great old days of fourth grader when I caught your eye & slipped you the engagement ring nor when good old mang Jane caused a quick divorce.

And then on to the ever present 70's when you & Filoen g I went through a ceremony where one of the three thing needstessons on ... how to do it gwe've always had so much in common & I've always been able to talk to you. Being as how your yearbook will need so much space for others to adress the ever popular Cathy, termination of this quite boning essay will happen. You've wilways been one of my nest a cosen friends at hope we can keep our relotionship as well in the future. I know I'll see you now! year - maybe not in Spanish 4 or A.P. history & dofinately not LATIN-nonsense & say - but definately in the holk is suchehong goodbyes are unnecessory 30. Goodbye & GOODLUCK ALWAYS POOLS ESSENTED

Cathy. Almost each day & see you in my 6th bell class or somewhere else during the day. and each time you pass you always have a warm, friendly, sheerful smile to give me. That smile goes a long way to a person and especially to me. I like it when I am smiled to and I try to smile to other people also. You have truly been sweet to me although it don't know you all that well. I hope you will enjoy next year here at Iranly as much as I have.

(Keep on smiling and of ill try to do the same!)
Best Wishes!
